

Hyperbaric Safety / Inspection and Maintenance of Hyperbaric Chamber Acrylics

August 12-13, 2008

2-day Pre-course to the 2008 HTNA ASM/AGM
Sea World Resort on the Gold Coast
Queensland, Australia

Hyperbaric Safety – This safety course focuses on risk management, risk assessment, equipment risks, and fire safety. A review of hyperbaric mishaps is used to illustrate the safety principles. It also includes a complete training course on inspection and maintenance of hyperbaric chamber acrylics.

Inspection and Maintenance of Hyperbaric Chamber Acrylics – This training course is based on the requirements of ASME PVHO-2. Participants will learn to perform operational and maintenance inspections as well as proper care, cleaning, polishing, and minor repairs of chamber acrylics. It also includes a skills laboratory in the proper inspection and user repair of acrylics. Participants of the acrylics course receive a certificate of training.
